WINERY: La Val

Más que dos

GRAPE: Albariño, Loureiro, Treixadura

WINE EXPERTS

An appealing blend of indigenous white grapes from the subzone of Condado do Tea in the south of Rias Baixas, where the slightly warmer conditions produce ripe and approcahable wines that retain good balancing acidity.

WINEMAKER'S TASTING NOTES

Aromas from each varietal seamlessly flow together. Fresh florals, and creamy citrus typical of Albariño are balanced with herbal, balsamic and slight smoky notes of Loureiro and finally, bright green apple aromas are pulled from Treixadura. On the palate, the blend is fresh, with a light to medium body. Bright, clean acidity provides a long lasting finish.
